What I love about teaching

I love seeing children's personalities change as they grow and develop knowledge. It is an amazing process to be able to witness as a teacher. I love nurturing infants and taking care of their day-to-day needs.

What your child will learn in my classroom

Your child will always be learning while in my care. I will speak to the babies to encourage language development, provide sensory activities, sing songs, and work on crafts to help extend their knowledge.
